

SIR JOHN NUTTING CUP

In 1906 Sir John G. Nutting, Baronet, of St. Helens, County Dublin, Ireland presented Chicago Yacht Club with an exquisite and ornate silver cup.

The cup was first used in an effort to promote the “Chicago yacht Club Eighteen-foot Restricted Class” under the Seawanhaka Rule. The class failed to take hold and in 1909 the competition was opened to the 21-foot “Raceabouts”, an open design class. The competition lasted through 1912. The cup was thereafter inactive until 1920 when it was raced for by the R-Class. The R’s raced for it through 1925 when it was transferred to the Eagle Class until 1941. In 1941 and through 1945 the class was renamed the S-Class, an open class that included the remaining Eagles. In 1947 the trophy was transferred to the 22 Square Meter Class where it remained through 1990. In 1997 it was assigned to the Shields Fleet as an event trophy which stands today.
